Sure thing. Based on the latest information I have, the facility was very close to finishing all necessary work with DWP. I understand once that is complete, the only next step (before certifying with EPA and the City) is some work to be done with DOGGR. I will try to get a formal update on Wednesday when I am back in the states.

Thanks!

Hi Rebekah,

I am in Paris until tomorrow night, but I will get an update when I get home and call you later this week. Does that work?
